DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cheng in view of Welhouse.

There is disclosed in Cheng a cooking pan comprising: a base 2 having an upper cooking surface, the surface being provided with a pattern of concentric corrugations 8 having ridges and grooves therebetween; and a non-stick coating 10 applied to the cooking surface. In regards to the claimed ridge to ridge spacing range, it is recited in Cheng that the range can be 2mm or wider.

Welhouse discloses a distance between a ridge top 15 and a groove bottom 17 in the range of 0.005" to 0.012". It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to modify the ridge top to groove bottom distance of Cheng as taught by Welhouse, in order to improve the heat transfer and drainage performance of the cooking pan.

In regards to the various distance ranges recited in the claims, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art to construct the cooking pan within those ranges, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed August 18, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. It should first be noted that when viewing the cooking surfaces of Wellhouse and Cheng it was the Examiners opinion that both disclosed a textured surface. While Wellhouse may not disclose a pattern of concentric corrugations, there is disclosed a surface pattern having ridges and grooves just as Cheng discloses and is required by the claims. Wellhouse teaches that a non-stick material can be applied to a cooking surface having a surface pattern which has ridges and grooves within the claimed height (col. 4, lines 62-68; col. 5, lines 1 and 2).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
